SOMME BATTLE
AT STANDSTILL.

Berlin's Report of the Great Thrust of the Allies.

Successes Won by the British Described as Local.

Massed Attacks of New Men Said to Have Failed.

(BY WIRELESS AND A. P.)

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—(Via Sayville.) The military crisis of the Overseas News Agency writes:

"The great thrust on the Somme has come to a standstill. Last week the general battle was split into isolated attacks. The small local successes of the enemy could not be developed, and for the most part were nullified by counter-attacks. The fact that for several weeks the same villages have been mentioned again and again in the official German reports and those of the Entente is the best proof that the general battle on the Somme has come to a standstill and that the British as well as the French are limited to improving their positions.

"Although the British won small local successes near Grandcourt and the Germans were again driven from Serre, the coveted heights of Serre remained in German hands after a desperate battle.

"Three fresh army corps were brought up by the British for the great attack of November 13-14, the objective of which was not merely Beaumont-Hamel and Beaucourt, but Bapaume, as is proved by orders that were found. After the failure of the mass thrusts, isolated attacks were continued by the British all through the week. These were without success and on Saturday the British made a general attack on both sides of the Somme. This attempt to break through our line was a failure. On the twelve-kilometer front the enemy was repulsed almost everywhere, and his insignificant successes at some places required the heaviest sacrifices. Local successes at the head of the line were paid for by the British with losses elsewhere on the front. The Butte de Warlencourt, a hill which bars the road to Bapaume, which was captured by the British on November 14 at the expense of enormous sacrifices, was recaptured by the Germans on the 16th. A surprise attack was made by the Germans without artillery preparation, and the opposing troops fled. Only two non-commissioned officers and seventeen men could be captured. The prisoners bore no arms. They were Austrians who were most weary of war, and they declared that all the Australian troops on the Somme front were kept up only by the hope of a speedy attack broken down with heavy losses, and near Pressoir little was gained."

OFFICIAL REPORT.

(BY WIRELESS AND A. P.)

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—(Via Sayville.) Attacks were made by the British yesterday on the Somme front between Serre and Beaucourt and south of Maricourt. The War Office announces that these assaults failed with heavy losses to the attackers. The British were repulsed from the western part of Grandcourt.

Today's statement follows: "The British attack on the Somme was in general diminished yesterday. Only along the Ancre on both sides of the river was it heavy.

"Between Serre and Beaucourt and against our positions south of Maricourt, attacks were launched during the evening hours. Only two isolated successes were achieved with heavy losses to the enemy.

"In hand-grenade engagements our infantry elected, the British from the western portion of Grandcourt.

"During the counter-attacks of last week we took prisoner 22 officers and 600 men, and captured 24 machine guns.

"The French again attempted to enter St. Pierre Vaast wood from the northwest. They were repulsed, although their attack was made with fresh forces and prepared by strong fires."

They were headed by Prof. Petras of the law faculty of the university. MAY NOT INTERFERE WITH RELIEF WORK.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, Nov. 20, 4:35 p.m.—On being asked whether the deportation of workmen from Belgium to Germany would interfere with the work of the American commission for relief in Belgium, Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the commission, said today:

"The removal of even 250,000 workmen from Belgium and Northern France would not materially affect the number of mouths which have to be fed, as this number would diminish the total by only 9,000,000 per cent. The needs of the 9,000,000 who remain would not be less than before, and for other reasons, their needs present a constantly growing problem.

"There is no deportation of persons directly or indirectly employed in relief work. They are protected by certificates, which are issued by the relief commission. Something like 100,000 of such persons are engaged as members of local committees, in transportation work, or as bakers, millers, etc.

"We have at present no statement to make as to the attitude of the allied governments toward continuance of relief, or as to the rights and wrongs of the measures taken by the German authorities. We are filled with anxiety and trust some solution can be found so that relief work will not be jeopardized, because the welfare of more than 9,000,000 helpless people is at stake."

PERSHING FOR INTERVENTION.

Brother of the General is Quoted in Idaho.

No Hope of Peace Except in American Action.

Fate of Foreigners Still in Paral in Doubt.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

LEWISTON (Idaho) Nov. 20.—That United States troops will not be withdrawn from Mexico, and that intervention on the part of the United States in Mexico is inevitable, is the opinion expressed here today by James F. Pershing, brother of Brig.-Gen. Pershing, in charge of the punitive expedition into Mexico. Pershing visited his brother recently at the latter's headquarters at Colonia Dublin, 275 miles south of the border.

"There is no hope for Mexico except through the intervention of the United States," said Pershing. "Mexico wants peace and prosperity, and the cry of humanity is for the United States to do its duty by the southern neighbor."

AMERICANS' FATE IN DOUBT

EL PASO, Nov. 20.—American mining men continue to make every possible effort to obtain definite information regarding the fate of the remaining Americans in Parral. In the opinion of the five or six Americans employed by the Alvarado Mining Company who are known to have reached Culiacan, Sinaloa, there are believed to be at least six other Americans still in the Parral district.

With the exception of the report brought to the border by Chinese refugees stating that "all foreigners had been killed by Villa," and the report brought to Juarez by a Mexican who claimed to have seen four Americans being taken to Villa's headquarters in Parral after the capture of the town, nothing is known of the fate of the Americans and other foreigners known to have been in the Parral district prior to the entrance.

The Alvarado Mining Company received a message late today from Nogales, Ariz., saying four American refugees from Parral were expected to arrive in Nogales from Culiacan tonight, en route to El Paso. The men are T. G. Hawkins, Jr., superintendent of the Parral mines of the Alvarado company; Leslie Webb, Bernard McDonald and A. W. Morris. According to the mining company, at least eight Americans are still unaccounted for in the Parral district.

The eight Americans in Parral still unaccounted for are Jacob Meyer, R. Palmer, William Scott, Henry Schaefer, R. P. Cowell, Dr. Thomas Planninger, Howard Gray and C. Smith.

Efforts are also being made to learn the identity of the American who was reported to be buried at Jimenez and his body buried by the Villa bandits. Henry Clark, the only American known to have been living at Jimenez, but the man killed is not thought to have been Clark, as he had just arrived there from Torreon, according to the report.

DEATH OF VILLA'S WIFE.

Mrs. Juana Torres de Villa, who claims to be the second wife of Francisco Villa, died recently in Guadalajara, Mex., according to a letter received here. Mrs. Villa lived in Los Angeles after the capture of the city as a bandit, later coming here at the time of the Carrizal affair in June. She was ordered deported, and left for Chihuahua city. Mrs. Luis Corral Villa, who claims to be Villa's first wife, is now understood to be in Havana, Cuba.

CATTLEMAN RELEASED.

Albert Herold, an American cattleman who was arrested and taken to Chihuahua city on a charge of cattle stealing, was released there and reached the border. He declared Gen. Trevino warned him to leave the state as soon as he was released. Herold added that Gen. Trevino declared he was not able to protect American citizens in his zone. Herold is said to have been with Villa at one time.

TROOPS AT AGUA PRIETA.

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Nov. 20.—Approximately 1500 troops are now quartered in Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, being the first contingent of the force being gathered by Gen. P. Elias Calles, to engage in the campaign against Villa. Other troops are reported to be moving north, while advice received here today indicated that Sonora's entire military strength, with the exception of small garrisons in important towns and a patrol along the Southern Pacific Railroad, will soon be moving north and east.

Gen. Calles and other high military and civil officials are expected to arrive in Agua Prieta soon.

A telegram from Nogales, Ariz., said that Gen. Arnulfo Gomez and his command of approximately 2000 cavalry is expected to arrive tonight at Nogales.

BORDER MANEUVERS.

BROWNVILLE (Tex.) Nov. 20.—The "Brown" army, defending the United States today forced the country by way of Mexico, to evacuate the city of San Benito, into which it retreated yesterday after its successful meeting with the "whites" south of the Arroyo Colorado.

The evacuation was compelled by the theoretical shelling of the city by the "white" army. The "browns" retreated to trench positions from two to four miles south of San Benito.

NEW YORK INQUIRY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Investigation by the Diet Squad, the office of the higher cost of coal and foodstuffs was well under way today. Twenty coal dealers large and small, have been summoned to explain what was characterized by Diet-Atty. Swann as a "terrible" situation.

"The way coal prices have been raised here is suspicious, to say the least," said Mr. Swann.

One member of a firm that sells 3,000,000 tons annually in this city attributed the coal shortage in October to conditions at the mines, resulting from a scarcity of labor. The dealer asserted that in October he had to go into the open market to buy coal, paying as high as $12 a ton. Conditions now have been returned to normal, he said, and the wholesale price of the mines is only a few cents a ton higher than last year.

Diet-Atty. Swann also is inquiring into the increased prices charged for poultry and bread. Investigation of the meat market has been complicated, it was said, by the fact that different prices are charged in different parts of the city.

DIVORCED WOMAN BROUGHT

Exhibits Introduced by Prosecution
Include Bloodstained Pillow, a Motor Car Radiator and a Window Screen—Defense Tries
New Tactics.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) Nov. 20.—Development of the State's case against Prosecutor Oscar D. McDaniel, is gotten well under way in the Criminal court today. Details relative to events both before and after the murder of Mrs. Harriet Moss McDaniel, wife of the prosecutor, who is being tried on the charge of murder, were introduced by the prosecution.

The prosecution attempted its first steps in its announced effort to convict the accused man through circumstantial evidence and began its attack upon McDaniel's version of how the crime was committed.

The name of Mrs. Dagmar Kruecker, divorced wife of a St. Joseph business man, and a friend of the slain woman, was brought in today through the testimony of W. H. Heatherington, former chief of detectives. She has been subpoenaed as a State witness.

Earlier in the day the State had attempted to show that robbers had not entered the McDaniel home the night of the murder and killed the prosecutor's wife, as one of the defense theories has been.

A bloodstained pillow, its case torn by her husband, was brought from the bed of the slain woman, a motor car radiator said to have been from McDaniel's automobile, and a screen declared to have been taken from a window of the prosecuting attorney's home were introduced by the State's exhibit.

The screen had been torn, the defense claiming a robber slit it to gain entrance into the house. The motor radiator, it was said by the State attorney, was used in an effort to disprove McDaniel's story that he engaged in a revolver duel before entering his home, about midnight, and finding his wife had been attacked.

Mrs. Kruecker was mentioned by Heatherington in connection with a visit to a fishing camp about a week before the murder. He told of having detected her there, but her husband, from whom she was not then divorced, and Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel. He observed nothing unusual.

Heatherington used the defense during cross-examination in efforts to show that McDaniel had been a vigorous prosecuting attorney, as a result of which persons inimical to him might have killed his wife for spite.

FEDERAL STATISTICS

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Government statistics dealing with accidents to switchmen and yardmen employed by the railroad from two country were presented as evidence late today at the hearing before the board of arbitrators of the controversy between the Switchmen's Union and thirteen railroads in regard to the eight-hour day.

It was shown that 224 switchmen and yardmen had been killed and injured in the months of July, August and September, 1915. A table, based upon those figures, gave 3732 killed and injured for a year, or about one in five in the industry, 45,000 switchmen and yardmen in the United States. The number of killed was placed at 256.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

HALIFAX (N. S.) Nov. 20.—Word was received from London tonight that the overdue Furus Line steamship Rappahannock had been sunk by a German submarine. No word has been heard of Capt. Garrett and his crew of forty men and the fear was expressed that they had perished. The Rappahannock sailed from this port for Liverpool on October 19, and for several days had been posted as missing. The cable said that word of the steamship's loss came from Berlin.

U-BOAT SANK ARABIA.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Announcement by the semi-official Overseas News Agency that a German submarine sank the British liner Arabia, made a deep impression in official quarters here today, and apparently removed all possibility that this case might take its place with that of the Persia, sunk in the Mediterranean long ago in some manner never cleared up. The British Admiralty said the Persia was torpedoed without warning, but none of the central powers would admit responsibility for it.

Officials were loath to discuss the matter in the absence of official information which, it is understood, is being sought from all sources. Some of them expressed surprise, however, that the attack upon the Arabia had been semi-officially admitted. It was suggested that the Overseas dispatch might mean that Germany had been preparing to make a test in this of the "armed ship" controversy with the United States or that in some way a minor official, hostile to Ambassador von Bethmann-Hollweg's submarine policy, might have allowed the dispatch to get out, seeing in it an opportunity to force the issue. It has been known here for some time that Germany would make a bitter fight against the defensive arming of merchant ships.

The contention that the Arabia was an armed transport because she carried a fifteen centimeter gun and had worked in war munitions aboard is not regarded here as being justified in the slightest degree. The ship was a Peninsular and Oriental passenger liner, with many passengers aboard. There was one American on board, an Indian. He has made an affidavit which has been forwarded to the Department.

So far as can be learned the department has heard nothing in reply to its request for Germany's version of the sinking of the British steamer Arabia, on which Americans lost their lives, nor has sufficient official evidence been received to warrant action in any of the other pending cases.

In all of their future political activities. A more radical step was taken at the afternoon session when the committee on the executive council report took up that feature of the report dealing with the decision of the Massachusetts Supreme Court concerning labor as property. The committee submitted an amendment unanimously adopted a recommendation that "any injunction dealing with the relationship of employer and employee, and based on the dictum that labor is property, be disregarded; let the consequences be what they may."

The committee's report follows: "It seems to be a settled purpose of interests antagonistic to the freedom of men and women who labor to persuade, and then use the judiciary and misconstruct constitutional guarantees and thereby nullify legislative enactments, so as to leave but one remedy; and we, therefore, recommend that any injunction dealing with the relationship of employer and employee and based on the dictum 'labor is property,' be absolutely disregarded as an usurpation and disregarded. The consequences be what they may. Such decisions as the one rendered by the Supreme Court of the State of Massachusetts, has its roots in class interests; it is usurpation and tyranny. Freedom of man to be free is a belief that resistance to tyranny is obedience to God. As it came, so it must be maintained. Kings could be and were disobeyed and sometimes deposed. United Support Pledged to Eight-hour Struggle.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WEBB)
BALTIMORE, Nov. 20.—The union of the four railroad brotherhoods with the American Federation of Labor as a separate body was regarded as more than a possibility tonight by influential federation leaders. It was reported on reliable authority that representatives of the railway department of the federation had been in conference with officials of the brotherhoods looking to an affiliation of all railway men with the federation. The separate organizations of the federation that would give the support of the organized forces of the country in any plan to advance the interests of organized railway workers, was plan, according to information obtained tonight.

PLEDGE SUPPORT.
It has been arranged that the president of the four brotherhoods shall place their cause before the federation convention at its morning session. The federation executive council already has reported to the convention that the brotherhoods were "assured of support and co-operation of the American Federation of Labor in their struggle for the eight-hour day."

"There can be no temporary amalgamation of organizations affiliated with the federation," a statement official declared. He pointed out that the constitution of the American Federation of Labor not permit such amalgamation. The only reference to the possibility of affiliation of the brotherhoods with the federation was made from President Gompers' remarks today. It came at the close of a three-hour debate over the seemed to be an unimportant matter. President Gompers said that was involved, however, the principle of compulsory association as against voluntary association in the federation.

DRIVE MEN AWAY.
On the principle of voluntary association, he said, the federation had grown and thrived. But the old principle of compulsion remained in force, the brotherhoods and other strong men would never have affiliated with the federation, he said. He then said after a pause: "Do you know if we go back a compulsion will induce the railroad brotherhoods to become affiliated? Is it not likely to drive them away?"

Several resolutions in favor of a universal eight-hour day were considered by the federation committee on Resolutions, of which President Duncan, chairman of the committee, expects to report on them tomorrow.

Rear-Admiral Strauss, chief of ordnance, appeared before the subcommittee. Explaining an increase in his estimates of $1,500,000 for fleet ammunition, he said the cost of projectiles and other ordnance material had increased so much since Congress provided $13,000,000 for the purpose last year, that the additional sum was needed. Prices of small shells, he said, were going

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—President Wilson practically completed his next annual message to Congress today and plans to put the finishing touches on it tomorrow. It will be devoted almost entirely to domestic matters, and will deal primarily with legislative questions recommended to Congress previously and not finally settled.

The principal items in the message are understood to be railroad legislation, to meet the situation created by the threatened railroad strike last August, and a measure to allow American exporters to form common selling agencies abroad.

Conservation bills, a corrupt practice measure, and the Porto Rico bill, Gov. Arthur Yager, of Porto Rico was at the White House today and expects to see the President within a few days to urge that the action be taken to suspend the recess before the usual Christmas recess of Congress. Gov. Yager said that until the bill is passed, giving citizenship to the Porto Ricans, agitation for the independence of the island will continue.

C. H. Brown of Redlands Says it is a Scheme.
Northern Growers Beneficial by the Act.
Object is to Hold Southern Fruit Back.

THE DIRECT WRIT-EXCISE DISTRICT SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 20.—Representing most of the independent shippers of this county, C. H. Brown of Redlands appeared before the Board of Supervisors with a resolution protesting against the recent enactment of "eight-to-one" orange measure, and made charges against the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, all of which secured a suspension of the measure, for the time being, at least.

Brown declared that the law which prohibits the shipping of oranges to one test; that, eight per cent of soluble solids to one of acid, designed by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange to aid the growers in the northern part of the State. As a result of its operation, Southern California oranges, although matured enough for shipping, are held back until the northern crop is moved. He brand it as sectional favoritism.

"The best prices for oranges were in January last year," he declared, "after the fruit growers' exorbitant offer to warehouse them. They failed to secure the passage of the 'eight-to-one' legislation last year, but are satisfying the northern market this year. Because they failed to warehouse them, they will be forced to move them early and brought in at a loss."

Brown declared that the legislation was inadequate, and excluded two oranges. Orange growers, he said, would plan the test, while other, a fully colored specimen, would not. He asserted it is a matter of from what trees the oranges are picked.

GOAT'S DEMISE STIRS STRIFE.

Village Pillar Asks Arrest of the Postmistress.

Because His Pet and Load of Buckshot Collided.

Official Refuses to Dabble in Cabbage-patch Case.

When "Jim" Clark's goat got into Mrs. Mary Hoskins' cabbage patch, the career of the goat came to a sudden end and "Jim" was minus this much discussed and highly treasured animal.

Mr. Clark is one of the foremost citizens of Cornell, a mountain village north of Los Angeles. Mrs. Hoskins is the postmistress there, and consequently one of the most sought-after individuals of the place.

The goat was the pet of Mr. Clark's youngsters. Mrs. Hoskins had a considerable vegetable patch. And Mr. Clark's goat enjoyed Mrs. Hoskins' vegetables, according to his admissions to Deputy District Attorney Woolwine yesterday afternoon.

A few nights ago he noticed the goat had gone astray, but failed to think much of this ordinary performance. Shortly after he heard the loud and vibrant report of a shotgun. Even such a sound perturbed him little, as it is frequently heard at Cornell.

Next morning his telephone bell rang and Mrs. Hoskins, by wire, informed him his goat was in a bad way in her barn. Rushing to that place, he discovered the animal had passed away, owing to an ill-advised attempt to stop a double handful of buckshot while in motion. Immediately he accused Mrs. Hoskins, whose cabbages had suffered perhaps, but not enough, to warrant such methods. She refused to talk, he said.

Then he made up his mind to get justice. He came all the way to Los Angeles to secure a warrant for the arrest of the postmistress. Unfortunately, he had to admit he could secure no witnesses to prove just how the goat and the buckshot got together. Only his suspicions supported his statements, and he was informed that without witnesses there could be no warrant.

Leaving, he promised to find witnesses, no matter what the cost. Mr. Clark is all wrought up. Deputy Woolwine fears nothing less than a severance of diplomatic relations at Cornell.

Fear.
DEFENDANT MISSING.
Chief Beaten at Time of Arrest and Later Released. Under Large Bonds, to Answer Little Girl's Charge, Believed Is Out of State.

Evidently fearing the wrath of friends and relatives of little Gertrude Barnes, whom he was accused of mistreating, Jose Gaso, a chief, fled from Los Angeles and probably the State. This was disclosed yesterday when his case was called before Judge Craig. Attorney Frank Dominguez stated his client could not have been convicted of the charges against him, but that he now feared his life was in danger after receiving a beating when the girl accused him of improper conduct.

Deputy District Attorney asked that the bail of several thousand dollars be forfeited. Judge Craig issued a bench warrant for Gaso in 10 a. m. to noon and from 1 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The membership includes teachers from all parts of Southern California and part of Arizona. From seventy-five to 100 persons are expected to attend.

In the evening at 7 o'clock there will be a banquet at the Clark residence. The members of the National Association of Stenotype Operators. An elaborate program has been arranged. Bruce Bliven and Carl Rosenberg will be among the speakers.

ON INSPECTION TOUR.

State Commissioner of Elementary Schools Arrives Here and Will Spend a Week Looking into Educational Conditions in This County.

Conducting her required inspection of the elementary schools of Southern California, Dr. Margaret Schallenger McNaught, State Commissioner of Elementary Schools, arrived yesterday afternoon at the Alexandria. Dr. McNaught will spend a week in this county, according to the State law, the commissioner is required to conduct a week's inspection tour every year.

During her stay here she will confer with Superintendent of Schools Shields and assist in the reopening of the Los Angeles night schools. The commissioner is deeply interested in the work being done to Americanize foreign residents.

She will go to Santa Ana today, Thursday will be spent in Pasadena. Special exercises will be conducted in the morning at the schools of both cities in honor of the visitor. Tomorrow afternoon and Saturday morning Dr. McNaught will be in the offices of the State Board of Education in the Union League Building.

HIGH LIVING COST UNKNOWN IN CHINA

Y.M.C.A. MEETS WITH FAVOR AMONG CELESTIALS.

Shanghai Secretary Says the Association Teaches Hundreds of Boys in the Educational, Social and Bible Classes and Also in American Games.

The high cost of living, bugaboos have not yet reached China, for in that country one can buy excellent lunches, consisting of rice, two meats and three vegetables for the small sum of 75 cents a month or 5 cents a meal, according to J. W. Clark, boys' work secretary for the Shanghai Y.M.C.A., who spoke before the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A. secretaries yesterday.

"The hundreds of boys who are members of the Y.M.C.A. educational, social and Bible departments there, eat those meals and grow fat on them."

"The Y.M.C.A. is the most popular movement in China today," said Mr. Clark. "It is called the 'Green Years Association,' which means it is for young people or people of youthful spirits. Following the revolution, the two far-flung provinces sent to the Shanghai association, asking that two governments be sent up to take charge of affairs."

"The Y.M.C.A. has taught Chinese boys how to play games, something they never did before we came. The Chinese boys are now so fond of ping-pong that we have to buy a gross of balls every three weeks. They love the game and are becoming expert. In one tournament we played about 1900 games."

"About 600 Chinese boys are in educational classes in the Y.M.C.A. there, and all of them also are enrolled in Bible classes. All are eager to learn English and many study the Bible in English."

INVESTIGATE BAD CHECKS.

Youth is Said to Have Located Bonanza at Several Oil Stations.

That John Donald apparently needed money and located a new bonanza field to get it without serious work, was the suggestion made by officers who investigated the young man's record and appeared before Deputy District Attorney Stafford to secure a complaint against him for the youth's arrest.

The specific charge is the passing of a bad check for $5 on C. E. Nash, an oil station operator at the corner of Figueroa street and Slauson avenue. For this worthless paper, Donald is alleged to have secured an inner tube for a motorcycle and $2 in change.

This is alleged to be only one of many oil station men who have paid tribute to Donald's money-getting methods and the checks range anywhere from $5 to $25. He was arrested before Justice Summerfield after his capture by Police Detective Rice and his bail was fixed at $2000.

WANT OFFICIALS, TOO.

In Ten-day Membership Campaign for Railroad Men the Workers Will Solicit Superintendents and Various Heads as well as Employees.

The officials in Los Angeles railroad circles are not to be allowed to escape in the ten-day membership campaign now being waged by the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A. among railroad men of the city. "Workers and officials are to be treated alike during the present week," said Campaign Manager Ballman. "We want the heads and superintendents in our membership just as much as we want the conductor, engineer or the engine wiper. We have something to offer all of them. Y.M.C.A. secretaries and volunteer campaign workers will not be backward in coming forward to solicit memberships from all the prominent railroad men of the city. We have some of them already in our membership, but there is room for more."

ON THEFT CHARGE.

Frank Williams and William Driscoll were bound over to the Superior Court yesterday by Justice Hanby on the charge of robbing Patrick Stephens, the night of November 11. The victim of the theft was one of the witnesses stand by Deputy District Attorney Mrs. Campbell, and declared he had been bound hand and foot with some of his own neckties and attached to a chair from which he watched the youths take some of his personal belongings, including about $10 in cash.

LOVE STRUGGLE ENDS IN DEATH.

Attorney Bongiorno's Widow Follows to Grave.

Girl Babies, Twins, are Left Without Parents.

Tragedy may Prove Fatal to the Grandfather.

A struggle in the night between the opposing powers of love for the living and loyalty to the dead ended in a somber victory for the latter when Mrs. Gwendolyn Bongiorno, widow of Attorney Alexander Bongiorno entered the valley of death by drinking a cup of powerful acid at her home, No. 2324 London street, yesterday. The specter of her dead husband, who had been killed in an automobile accident the night before, proved more alluring than the mother love for her two three-year-old babies, twins, whom she had tenderly put to bed that she might be alone with her grief.

When morning dawned it was the crying of the children trying to awaken their mother that disclosed the second tragedy in the Bongiorno household. A neighbor, Mrs. H. J. Hanlon, heard them and when she investigated found the young widow lying in bed, cold in death with a picture of her husband clasped tightly to her heart.

She had lived her life's greatest problem. Her decision to a act of the infinite. When she sat alone in her home bereft of her husband, discouraged by her disconsolate outlook on life, torn by despair, she probably forgot the duty of mother to babies, or perhaps her great mental anguish overbalanced the simple of reason and she sought comfort in the grave.

THEIR DEATH.

Alexander Bongiorno was killed Saturday night in an automobile accident returning from the Santa Monica race in a machine driven by Justice Hinshaw.

At 6 o'clock that night he called his wife on the telephone. He said he would be home shortly. He took the dinner warm. The wife was employed as an operator of a Sunset telephone switchboard in Hollywood and left soon for her work. At 10 o'clock she received a message to go to the Emergency Hospital at once, but she could not leave until midnight.

Upon her arrival at the hospital she asked for her husband. The reply from the man on duty was that he was dead. Dazed, she calmly took the blow and so supreme was her anguish that all traces of her suffering were masked behind a grave exterior, leading her friends to believe she was bearing up bravely under the shock.

THEIR ROMANCE.

Dr. G. E. Bally, professor of geology at the University of Southern California, who had been as a student to Mrs. Bongiorno, his niece, left her late Sunday at her request. He like others thought she was steeled to the tragedy. When the message came to him of his niece's act he said he supposed she had been too stunned at first to realize what the future would mean without her husband. And when she cleared she simply could not face the dreary years before her.

"Their romance was the most beautiful I ever knew," said Dr. Bally last night.

"I never saw greater devotion than that they had for each other. The love that drew them so close from the time of their first meeting grew constantly stronger."

It was while living at the home of Dr. Bally, attending the Normal School, that Gwendolyn Boston met the young man. He was a student at the time and she was a teacher. They fell madly in love and eloped with him. For a time they kept their marriage a secret.

But soon the arrival of the girl's twins forced them to disclose their secret. And these babies were destined to draw back the love of the young bride's parents, whom had become estranged from her. Direct result of an old feud. The Bongiorno family her marriage to the brilliant Italian lawyer was a triumph of love over racial opposition.

LEFT ALONE.

The little twin girls celebrated their third birthdays just six weeks ago. And as Dr. Bally said played with the babies, they, too young to realize the tragedy that had befallen them, cost them their parents, romped merrily, stopping occasionally to ask when "mama" or "papa" were coming home. And for answers of the stricken uncle could only kiss their lips and caress their curly heads.

Among the first to arrive at the little home after the tragedy were attorneys Roger Marchetti and Courtney Lacey, who were partners of the dead man. They notified the Italian societies of the city to which Mr. Bongiorno belonged and they will have charge of the funeral arrangements.

Before she drained the cup of death the young wife sent a message to her husband's sister and brother in New York telling them of their brother's tragic death, but when the answer came offering their condolence she was beyond the need of sympathy. They asked that the funeral be held in Los Angeles. It is not known yet whether they will be able to attend the funeral or not.

Attorney Marchetti said last night that the Italians are circulating a subscription among the colony to give the dead lovers a funeral such as only the rich could have.

FATHER'S COLLAPSE.

To add to the double tragedy that took from him a son and a daughter-in-law, the father of the dead couple collapsed when he was informed of Mrs. Bongiorno's suicide. It is doubtful if he will recover from the shock for he is an old man. He will probably go to New York to make his home with his son and daughter. The father of the dead couple was a partner of the dead man. An inquest over the body of Mr. Bongiorno will be held at the chapel of Health, Goshawk & E. Lombard at 10 a. m., Thursday.

Efforts to be made, according to Deputy Coroner Williams, to bring to light just how the accident occurred. The members of the street car company will be called and police surgeons will be called. Justice Hinshaw and Mr. Catalano, the judge who was able to attend the inquest.

Last-minute Service. The funeral will be held at 10 a. m. Friday or early Saturday.

PLEA FOR "QUEEN."

Attorney Tells Supervisors Woman Sand-lot Magnate will be Left Destitute if Her Home is Taken on a Bond Held Forfeit by County.

In an appeal to the Board of Supervisors yesterday, Attorney Ingle declared that unless the county is lenient, Mrs. Martha De Turk, known as the "Sand-lot Queen," will lose her home at Vernon and be pauperized. Leniency was asked in the effort of the county to collect on a $2000 bond, which Mrs. De Turk put up when her son, Eddie Keys, was arrested a year ago and which was declared forfeit when he failed to appear for trial.

After the bond was signed, Keys is said to have disappeared. Eight months later he was found in a mining camp in the northern part of the State. His mother brought him back and he was placed in her home by the Vernon police. Mr. Carpenter declared she was preparing to send the son back to jail when the police reached her home in search of him.

The attorney's petition was opposed by Deputy County Counsel Farley. He said it required months to serve papers on Mrs. De Turk and this was accomplished only when she came to court to testify against Edward Schaeffer, who was alleged to have forged her name to a small check. Mr. Carpenter denied this and said the delay in serving the papers should be laid to the deputy sheriffs sent out with them. The supervisors will investigate before deciding the matter.

ADD MORE VOTES THAN THE NUMBER OF VOTERS.

THE Board of Supervisors yesterday added the 270 votes polled in Los Angeles city Precinct No. 338, to the returns already canvassed and made public on Saturday last. The corrected vote of Los Angeles county now officially stands, Hughes, 135,429; Wilson, 114,115, or a majority for the Republican ticket of 21,314. Hughes gained 109 votes and Wilson 3 in the canvass, so that the total net gain for the Republican ticket was the error of an election board of 106 votes.

Despite the fact, there was no precedent for the decision of the board and the county council's PRIZE IMPERIAL STOCK TO BE SHOWN AT FAIR.

GREAT plans are under way in the Imperial Valley for a mid-winter live stock fair to be held in El Centro from December 29 to January 1, inclusive, according to A. M. Nelson, secretary of the Imperial County Farm Bureau, who is at the Hollenbeck.

As the chief live stock section of the State, the Imperial Valley will be able to make a display of pedigreed animals worthy of a much older country. Mr. Nelson said yesterday, and with the live stock exhibit as a nucleus, a fair will be produced that will include parades, taggards, carnival days and other festival amusements. It is expected that a large number of Los Angeles residents and tourists will avail themselves of the fine midwinter climate of the valley to see the vast cotton fields and grain, the growing winter crops. Mexican, the capital of Baja California, and other sights of interest, and at the same time attend the fair.

The live stock fair will be produced by the County Farm Bureau with the co-operation of the El Centro Chamber of Commerce. Besides the live stock exhibit the fair will have a display of other products of the valley, such as cotton, grain, grapefruit and winter fruits.

TRUCK AND STREET CAR CRASH AT DEATH SPOT.

WITHIN a hundred feet of the spot where Alexander G. Bongiorno, an attorney, was killed and two others seriously injured Saturday night, A. T. Northern of Venice early last night drove a five-ton truck at full speed into the front of an inbound Washington and Maple-avenue street car. Both the street and the automobile truck were wrecked, but no one was injured. Northern was locked in the University Jail charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated.

R. Scott of Venice, who was riding in the street car, was killed. The accident was investigated and then released.

From what the police were able to learn, Northern was driving the truck, which is owned by the Western Transfer Company of Venice, toward the beach city. The street car, with no passengers on board, was inbound. The two came together at Washington boulevard and Vineyard street. The crash could be heard for blocks.

Thrown from his seat on the truck, Northern was hurled 80 feet, landing on the grass beside the road. Scott was also thrown from his seat, while the crew of the street car dashed to the floor of the car. Northern fled, according to the police. He was captured and taken to the West of the Los Angeles Railway, who had seen the accident.

Police who investigated the case and the street car crew declare that Northern was driving the truck at top speed. The street car, which had just started, was going at a slow rate of speed and all lights were burning, the police said.

The value of the property, was made known to the jury in the David Caplan trial Tuesday, when Henry B. Wilson, assistant cashier of the Columbia National Bank of Indianapolis, was called on the stand by Deputy District Attorney Keyes and Doran.

Wilson testified that few, if any checks were made out to the unions in the name of the association, which had its account in the bank, but that McNamara had checks made to himself. Following this he cashed the checks or his personal checks to the union who were doing the dirty work for the union. This prevented incriminating evidence from getting the books of the association.

The case was introduced as the main event yesterday afternoon in Judge Police Donahue's Court Room No. 10, where two ex-convicts, who heard two explosions from bridges in his neighborhood were blown up and who, at the time, were armed with rifles, were taken as patrolmen arrested James Davis on suspicion.

It had how he was convinced that he was the dynamiter, particularly after the latter had pulled a knife on him. Getting no further corroboration, the judge adjudged the charge of attempted murder against Davis, and the other dynamiter was convicted of manslaughter three years in a Massachusetts reformatory. This time around, and it proved his guilt beyond more extended sentences than the other dynamiters received, where his testimony was much in clearing the doubts of the officials.

SUPREME COURT MUST DECIDE ARTESIA ROW.

A SCHOOL building in Artesia is the center of a legal battle which, it is declared, will have to be decided by the Supreme Court before the citizens of that city and the school trustees will lay down their arms on the question whether the building should or should not be opened for public meetings.

As a meeting was scheduled for last night and the trustees declined to open the schoolhouse, Mrs. Hetta Leng and her husband, E. M. Leng, asked for a writ of mandate to compel the trustees to light, heat and open the school building for a reception to the trustees and new school teachers.

The writ came before Judge Works late yesterday afternoon for a hearing. The trustees attended, forming one line of the battle, and Mr. and Mrs. Leng and officers and members of the Congress of Mothers, who are giving their moral support to the fight to open the building, constituted the other and more numerous wing. But they lost the fight.

Mrs. Henry Goodell and Mrs. R. L. Garner of San Bernardino are pushing the work of charity in their city and have arranged several important society events for the benefit of the widows and orphans. South Pasadena is also reaching forth a helping hand. E. O. Wickizer has started the organization of a committee for that city and expects to present a neat sum to the local headquarters within a few days.

Pasadena will be well represented in the donation drive by the plans for a huge card party which is being arranged for next Friday by Miss Irene Grosse of Pasadena and Mrs. E. N. Neff of Altadena. The party will be given at the Hotel Maryland. The prizes have been donated and are said to be the handsomest ever put up for a card party in the Crown City. An effort is being made to secure the services of Missa Elina for the widows and orphans, whom, apparently, the rest of the world will not help. Just as if they were to blame and did not need as much food and aid as the poor Belgians and French. I am very proud that Los Angeles is in this movement.

One man, Valentine Katzenberger, a contractor of Los Angeles, called at the headquarters at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and asked for a subscription list. He said that he thought he could get a little bit of money for the destitute of Germany and was willing to try. At 4:30 o'clock p.m. he returned and deposited $74.35 on the counter. "Count me in," he said.

Those who wish to contribute to the fund may do so by check or otherwise to E. G. Judah, treasurer, Thanksgiving Offering for German Widows and Orphans, room 101, No. 621 South Spring street.

If You Have to Make a Loan

—YOU will find it decidedly to your advantage when borrowing money to make your mortgage to a big Corporation like ours rather than to an individual.

We make the expense to the borrower as light as possible. We charge no commission for making the loan, and have large and small sums immediately available for loans on city or improved farm property.

The condition of the money market for some time now has been favorable to the borrower. How long this condition will prevail is hard to foresee. In all probability a change will occur before long. We, therefore, suggest to borrowers that they safeguard themselves now by refinancing old loans or making new ones.

Call or send description of your property, stating the amount of money required, and we will give the matter immediate attention.
